

Report of Operative G. T. Purdy

Sept. 15th, 1926.

Hall-Mills case

Operative arrived at Mr. Watson's office at 9 A.M. and received instructions from him to interview the following persons: Mrs. Bartle, Mrs. Zulic and Dr. Little, who is connected with the Rockefeller Institute at Princeton, N. J.

Operative proceeded to the vicinity of De Russey's Lane and made inquiries in an effort to locate Mrs. Bartle. Received information that a woman living at #186 Easton Ave. formerly lived in De Russey's Lane near Mrs. Fralie's house at the time of the murders, and about one year ago moved to the Easton Ave. address, and that her name is Mrs. Bartelone.

Operative went to 186 Easton Ave., but Mrs. Bartelone was not at home. Operative learned that she is working at the New Brunswick Trouser Co., 16 Bartlet St. and proceeded to this factory and there interviewed this woman, who admitted that she did live in De Russey's Lane at the time of the murders, but did not hear any shots or see anything unusual on the night of September 14th, 1922 and only knows what people told her after the bodies were found.

Operative then went to the vicinity of Summerset and French Streets near the brook in an effort to locate Mrs. Zulic and made inquiries all through this neighborhood, but could not find this woman or anyone who knows her.

Operative then boarded a train to Princeton, N. J. and from there taxied to the Rockefeller Institute to see Dr. Little. At 2:40 P.M. the doctor came in and Operative interviewed him. He
